Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill? (Please note that this question is compulsory.)

Fully supportive

Q2. Which of the following best expresses your view on whether there is a need for a specific, dedicated commissioner focussing solely on people with a disability?

Fully supportive

Q3. Do you think legislation is required, or are there other ways in which the proposed Bill's aims could be achieved more effectively? Please explain the reasons for your response.

Legislation is required without it being down black and white in the law people with disabilities will always be consigned to the scrap heap of either useless or frauds

Scope of the Disability Commissioner Role

Q4. Which of the following best expresses your view of the Disability Commissioner role covering all disabilities; physical, mental, hidden and fluctuating conditions?

Fully supportive

Please give reasons for your response, including how the commissioner could co-ordinate with the work of existing bodies/organisations who support people with these conditions.

A disability that impacts your life is a disability no matter what it is. I have Secondary Progressive MS a degenerative condition that also fluctuates, in the beginning, late teens/early 20s, just to look at me people would think there was nothing wrong and I was just skiving or that my bad days were hangovers etc. Then came the days when I could barely walk one day but I could walk the half mile to the shop and back the next so I must be taking for sympathy or benefit money. Now I'm in a wheelchair all the time it's often assumed that I'm completely incapable especially as one of my cognitive issues is aphasia, getting things out properly can take time when writing and I word stutter when talking. I also have a family member who suffered a brain injury and while physically they are fine, there are cognitive issues that have an impact and too many people don't see them a problems. So personally I would like to see the MS society and other MS organisations involved as well as other organisations that deal with brain health

Q5. Which of the following best expresses your view of the Disability Commissioner having a role in reviewing laws and policies that might impact on disabled people?

Fully supportive

Q6. Which of the following best expresses your view of the Disability Commissioner promoting best practice and learning from service providers, key stakeholders and third sector?

Fully supportive

Q7. Which of the following best expresses your view of encouraging involvement of disabled people and DPOs (Disabled People's Organisations) in the work of the Disability Commissioner?

Fully supportive

Q7. Which of the following best expresses your view of encouraging involvement of disabled people and DPOs (Disabled People's Organisations) in the work of the Disability Commissioner?

Please explain the reasons for your response. Please discuss how you think this would work in practise – would this be through focus groups, internships, paid roles etc

Without the experience of the people who live with disabilities you cannot understand their needs and issues with the wider world. Paid roles within the commission would be a must so that there are people with personal experience are at the heart of the work. Focus groups should also be important to get the wider community input

Q8. Who should the Disability Commissioner be allowed to investigate?

Both Scottish Public Bodies and service providers
